

Patterson IP believes in the pursuits of today's innovators and creators - and the industry-shaping, game-changing potential of your next idea, invention, or design. With industry experience and highly focused legal expertise on our side, Patterson serves to countless technical industries from nanotechnology to biomedicine, road construction equipment to consumer products, military weapons and gear to chemical arts, and more.