

Nathan North joins Patterson Intellectual Property Law

Patterson Intellectual Property Law is pleased to announce that Nathan North has joined as an associate of the firm. North, a registered patent agent, will practice in the areas of patent prosecution and litigation.

“We have known Nathan for many years and are excited to have him as part of our firm. He will provide further depth to our appellate practice and brings the technical skills our clients need for drafting patent applications,” said Ryan Levy, managing shareholder for Patterson Intellectual Property Law.

Most recently North served as a Law Clerk for the Honorable Raymond Chen of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in Washington, D.C. He is a 2017 graduate of Emory University School of Law, where he served as the Editor and Chief of the Emory Law Journal, and received the ABA/BNA Award for Excellence in the Study of Intellectual Property Law. He was a member of the Atlanta IP Inn of Court, Technology Innovation: Generating Economic Results (TI:GER), a Patent Track Participant, and a member of the Intellectual Property Society. North is a 2014 magna cum laude graduate of the University of Tennessee where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering.
